

Instructions

The flame template consists of two pages. Cut along the dashed line of page two and glue or tape this edge along the solid line of page one. Using a razor blade cut along the outline of the flame. The base of the flame can be cut to fit where you will be applying the stencil, or you can continue cutting along the flame's outline. Tape the stencil in place and apply your paint. Once the paint is dry, shift the placement of the stencil to create groups of flames.

Cut along the outline or make a custom cut to fit your application.

Use your stencil over and over to make groups of flames.
